- The game is free to play.

Prepare for a battle

You can use $KIK to purchase spaceships. The more spaceships you have the more powerful your Space Squad are, the sooner you can finish the battle.

After purchasing spaceships, you can send them to the battle and fight the boss by clicking the "Fight" button on each spaceship unit.

Up to fifteen spaceships can form a squad and join the battle. When a spaceship runs out of ammo, it will automatically be removed from the battle. In that case, you can add another spaceship to your squad as long as it has at least 50% ammo capability.

When not in a battle, the spaceship is automatically reloaded; the standard reloading KIKed is 0,3 ammo/second. You can use $KIK to buy more base and attach it to your spaceship to fasten the reloading time. One base can reload one spaceship at a time.

Engage in a battle

After clicking "Fight" for each spaceship, you need to go to the battle screen for the actual battle. Bosses will come in different waves; each following wave is stronger than the previous one. There are unlimited numbers of waves in Space Crypto. In the beginning, you will join Wave One.

After you defeat Wave-One boss, you will earn $KIK and go to the next wave that has a stronger boss with a higher $KIK rewards.

If you can't take down the boss after the showtime ends, you will have to restart from wave one.

If you exit the battle screen during the battle, the boss's hit point is reserved but the showtime still countdown as if you are actively engaging in that battle.
